

DUFF SUPPORTS PETERS TO FILL CUSTOMS POST

Recommendation Requires
Approval by Senate,
President

Fred C. Peters, veteran Montgomery County commissioner, has been recommended for the job of Collector of Customs in Philadelphia by Sen. James Duff.

Sen. Duff's administrative assistant told The Mercury yesterday that the Senator had put up Peters' name. The recommendation will have to be acted upon by the President and ratified by the Senate before it becomes official.

Logical successor to Peters as County Commissioner is William Muldrew, chief clerk of the Commissioners. A former county surveyor he was a candidate for Prothonotary in 1937.

Muldrew, who would have to be appointed by the courts would hold the position until next January when Peters' term expires.

THE COLLECTOR of Customs post became vacant the past June 30 when Louis V. Dorp retired.

Dorp, former Montgomery County Clerk of Courts, held the job for more than one year.

Peters is winding up 20 years in the commissioner's office.

He is 70 years old. The past Spring he intended to make himself a candidate for a fifth term as commissioner. But when the County GOP organization decided to hold fast to its rule of "no more than two terms," Peters stepped down.

The Federal post, which carries a salary of $12,000 a year, rounds out Peters' political career. He has been in politics on the township, county, state levels.

He has a son, Frederick, and two daughters, Martha, wife of James Dwyer of New York City, and Jane, wife of John Layton Jr., Berwyn.

Floyd J. Sisto Heads YMCA Drive For New Members

Floyd J. Sisto, vice president and general manager of the Jacobs Aircraft Engine company, yesterday accepted the chairmanship of the membership enrollment drive of the Pottstown Young Men's Christian Association.

Sisto, who lives on Airport road, Limerick, accepted the post at a meeting of the membership enrollment committee held at the Brookside country club yesterday at noon.

Upon accepting the post Sisto said, "I am a member of our YMCA. I use my membership and I derive personal benefit from it. The YMCA is an asset to our community and it is helpful to every child who takes part in the many activities. Through the 'Y' I'm interested in both helping boys and making Pottstown a better place to live."

Members of the committee are: J. R. Sotter, Benjamin H. Longaker, Thomas A. McCaslin 3rd, Thomas F. Storm 2nd, David

Chief's Vacation Delays Action

No action will be taken this week on the five boys who were caught entering a North End home two weeks ago.

Burgess John B. Hartenstein — whose 13-year-old son was one of the five — said last night that "we can't do anything until the chief comes back."

Chief James Laughead is taking a week's vacation.

The chief said last week that the case would go to Montgomery County Probation Officer Peter J. Frascino. He has established a policy of sending all juvenile cases to Frascino.

Last week, the chief said he didn't get in touch with Frascino because he was sick.

Hartenstein said last night that he hadn't seen the chief for a week. "It's up to him," he said.

Willaredt Opposes 'Inequitable' Tax

State representative Herman B. Willaredt of Mont Clare voted against Gov. Leader's classified income tax plan yesterday because he thinks it is unconstitutional and not equitable "in any means."

Rep. Willaredt, who represents the Montgomery county Third district, was one of 94 Republicans of the House of Representatives who opposed the bill.

The bill was passed, however, by a roll call vote of 108 to 98 following a heated debate of more than two and one-half hours.

Willaredt said the tax plan would hit widows and other persons living on set incomes from annuities and rents in an unfair manner.

"THE PERCENT goes up to 4, 5 and 6 percent on income from rents, interest, dividends and capital gains," he said. "It hits people who, through saving in past life, have managed to get a small income. Apparently the thinking is that anyone who gets dividends is rich. And you and I both know that some of those incomes are very small compared to what's being earned today."

The proposed bill is unconstitutional, Willaredt continued, because the State constitution says "a tax must be equal on all subjects."

The bill will go before the State Senate tomorrow. Sen. Henry J. Probert, Republican of Montgomery county, said he will vote against it because he believes it is not equitable.

"I believe the sales tax is the most equitable," he said. "I opposed an income tax in 1951 when Gov. Fine advocated it and my position is not changed."

Knife Protests Internal Revenue Office Closing

Russell Knipe, personnel director for State and county employees, yesterday protested to Cong. Samuel K. McConnell the closing to the public of the Internal Revenue office in Pottstown.

The office, located at the Post office, was closed to the public the past Friday. Lamar Missimer and Frank Romeo will continue to work at the Pottstown office but will handle only collections and investigations.

Internal Revenue officials said the closing was in keeping with a national trend to centralize services.

Knipe said he enclosed a Mercury story about the closing with his letter to McConnell.

His letter suggests to McConnell that since personnel at the Pottstown office hasn't been reduced the reason for the closing isn't clear.

He asked McConnell to look into the situation.

Leon Levitz, picked yesterday as chairman of a committee to raise $5000 for a parking survey, said "there shouldn't be any trouble at all in raising that amount."

"Every businessman we've talked to so far is enthusiastic and behind the project 100 percent," he said.

Levitz was named chairman of the Mercantile bureau committee by Harold Wolf, Bureau chairman. Jack Hoffman of the New York store was also named as a committee member.

Levitz, co-owner of the Levitz Furniture store, said he would pick the other four members of his committee today.

The $5000 will pay for a professional survey of the borough's business district which is expected to lead to a solution of acute parking problems.

AFTER THE survey is completed, the Bureau hopes that borough council will set up a parking

Valve Installation Robs King Street Houses of Water

Hundreds of residents along King street were without water last night when a 20-inch main was shut at 10 p. m. so workmen could install a new valve at King and North Charlotte streets.

The main will be reopened at 8 a. m. today, Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden said last night.

Residents on these streets affected: King street, from Hanover to Washington; Evans, King to Walnut; Washington High to Chestnut streets.

Workers of the A. P. Smith company of New Jersey were supervising the work.

Sizzling Heat Stages Return

Weather-weary Pottstonians were back on the griddle yesterday as nature again turned up the burner in her local cookstove.

After simmering in the high 80s on Monday, local and area residents were baked to a turn yesterday in temperatures that zoomed to the 90 mark during the late afternoon.

Today the mercury is scheduled to boil as high as the 98 mark, and no relief is expected tomorrow.

"Continued hot and humid," is the grim news from the weather bureau.

If today's temperature hits the 98 mark, as expected, it will break a record of 97 set for that date in 1940.

IT WOULDN'T be the first record broken during the long heat wave that continues to hang on here. Saturday's 96 degrees broke a 1918 record for that date.

Lawns cracked underfoot as the blazing sun baked out the slight moisture from brief showers Sunday, and garden soil was like the dry sand of the desert.

Tomatoes have been hit hard by the dry weather, gardeners report. Most tomatoes this year are tasteless and mushy, and lack the characteristic ruby-red color.

"Too much hot sun," said the gardeners. "They don't ripen naturally that way. They're sunburned, like us."

BUT SOME gardeners found that all is not lost. Potatoes are better than usual this year.

"I was digging some potatoes tonight," Ralph Gehman, Barto, remarked, "and they're very nice. It seems to be a good season for them."

He explained that the early warm weather the past Spring must be the reason.

Gehman admitted that the drought is serious, though. He said his area missed getting showers over the weekend, like those that fell in Pottstown's North End.

POTTSTONIANS FOUND some relief from the heat last night at the concert of the Pottstown band in Memorial park.

Yesterday's high of 90 was reached shortly before 5 p. m. After 6 p. m. the mercury began to slide down the scale until it reached the low 80s by 10 p. m.

Bertoia's Creation Accepted Dallas Library Houses Screen

The controversial metal screen made by abstract sculptor Harry Bertoia of Barto RD., is going to be placed in the new Dallas, Tex., library after all.

"It seems that after all it was intended for the library," Bertoia commented last night. "It's very nice, I think."

The screen that Bertoia took three months to design raised an outcry among Dallas city fathers about two weeks ago. Mayor R. L. Thornton called the creation of painted copper strips "a bunch of junk."

They made so many wisecracks about it that architect George Dahl said he'd buy the $8500 screen. He had it dismantled and carted to his home.

THE DALLAS library board, which had approved the screen in the first place, asked the city council to bring it back for free. Meanwhile, art lovers and architects had raised the money to pay for it.

Bertoia, defending his work, had said that the city council should consider other of his creations on display in buildings throughout the country before condemning it.

He said the abstract screen wasn't supposed to represent anything in particular and was whatever the viewer thought it was.

Dallas architects asked the council to set up an art commission and hold a public hearing to decide what to do with the screen.

BUT THE COUNCIL decided not to do this and agreed to let the library board install it.

Said Councilman W. C. Miller, "Members of such a commission probably wouldn't agree among themselves and then artists probably wouldn't do what the commission said to do."

"Further, the council is not going to surrender to any architect's judgement what the city should pay for to go into a public building."

"It is not what I would put in the library, nor the council, but

House Passes Gov. Leader's Income Tax Bill

Rhubarb Develops In Demo Maneuver

HARRISBURG, July 26 (AP)—The Democratic-controlled House tonight passed Gov. Leader's Classified income tax bill and broke up a drama-packed session in a tremendous row.

The vote to pass the tax was 108-98, two more than the necessary 106.

The rhubarb developed when Speaker H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria) abruptly adjourned the chamber in a move to blast a Senate Republican timetable to kill the income tax on the Senate floor on Thursday.

Andrews gavelled down a Republican outcry protesting the adjournment. Rep. Charles C. Smith, House Republican floor leader who was ignored by the speaker on a request for a roll call on the adjournment motion told a reporter:

"If they want fireworks, we'll give them fireworks. We'll make them read every bill at length. Two can play this game too."

SMITH'S THREAT of a filibuster came after Andrews said the House would meet again tomorrow.

U. S. TO SEEK CEASE FIRE IN FORMOSA AREA

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States will sound out the Red Chinese on the possibility of a cease-fire in the Formosa straits when ambassadors of the two nations meet in Geneva Monday.

He also told an audience of newsmen that "the war danger has receded" as a result of the Big Four conference in Geneva last week.

A major goal of the new meeting in neutral Switzerland, the secretary announced, will be "to find out . . . whether the Chinese Communists accept the concept of a cease-fire" around Formosa. In the past there have been intermittent clashes between Nationalist Chinese who hold the island of Formosa, and Red Chinese in the area.

Dulles said the United States is already on record as accepting the cease-fire principle in other divided countries like Korea, Germany and Viet Nam.

While this country is supplying military equipment to the Nationalist Chinese, he went on, it is on the basis of a nationalist pledge that no force will be used in their dispute with the Peiping regime except through joint agreement with the United States or in case of an emergency.

Dulles told his news conference another aim of the upcoming Geneva meeting will be "getting back the Americans . . . still detained in China".

Khrushchev Promises East German Communists They Won't Be Unified

BERLIN, July 26 (AP)—Soviet Communist boss Nikita S. Khrushchev promised East German Reds tonight Germany would not be unified at the expense of the "political and social advances" of the German Democratic (Communist) Republic.

Reviewing the results of the Geneva summit conference, Khrushchev said a rearmament of Germany is "unacceptable" to the Soviet Union, and added:

"One cannot solve the German question at the expense of the (East) German Democratic Republic. Can the German Democratic Republic agree to be drawn into the North Atlantic Pact and West European Union and thus permit the burden of rearmament to be placed on its shoulders?"

"Can the German Democratic Republic sacrifice all its political and social advances and all its democratic ideals? We are convinced that the workers of the German Democratic Republic will never agree to such a course."

The Soviet Union, he added, is in accord with that.

COMMUNISTS TRANSLATE the word "democratic" to mean Communist.

Khrushchev in Berlin once again took the spotlight away from the nominal head of the Soviet state, Premier Nikolai Bulganin, who stood by his side while the Communist boss addressed a crowd of 250,000 massed in East Berlin's Red Square and along the broad Unter Den Linden boulevard.

Workmen from East Berlin and surrounding Soviet zone factories were given time off to attend the rally—but the government news agency said the workers would "make up the time" by arriving a half hour early in their plants for the next few days.

Khrushchev said reunification of Germany can be accomplished "in only one way" — within the framework of an all-European security pact. He said the U.S.S.R. could not expect the East Germans to be willing to be absorbed by a West Germany "that is rearming as a partner in the North Atlantic Pact."

The Soviet party boss said he hoped divergent East-West views could be reconciled at the foreign ministers' conference in Geneva in October. He told the rally a good start was made at the summit meeting.

11 Youths Nabbed In Big Robbery

DAYTON, Ohio, July 26 (AP)—Eleven youths involved in a reported $82,000 theft from a Dayton baker have been rounded up, and $52,000 recovered, police said today.

Five of the group, including two girls, were released. Six others face charges of dipping into the baker's money buckets he kept in the basement of his home. Police said about $15,000 had been spent or given away.

The six charged include the baker's son, Carl Frederick Frowein, 15, whom police said claimed he was "double-crossed" when some of his buddies helped themselves to the buckets of money.

Police said Carl took some of the money to buy a car and treat his friends. Some of the friends who were shown the three money buckets of baker Fred Frowein later broke into the home and helped themselves, police said.

The last of the 11, Clarence Cook, 19, surrendered to authorities at Versailles, Ind., last night. Police said he had $19,920 in his possession. Earlier yesterday, Dwane Linke, 19, turned himself in at Richmond, Ind., after wrecking his souped-up Cadillac convertible.

Poor Boy Given Break by Ruler

AMMAN, Jordan, July 26 (AP)—Until yesterday two things dominated the life of a Bedouin Arab boy named Mohammed Ali Muhisn — a problem and an ambition.

For at 13, he found the life of a nomad pretty tough. He had practically no money. He had no prospects. He had no parents. And his friends in the tribe of Behin Hasan were also poor.

Muhisn's problem was what to do with his life, and his ambition was to get an education. Yesterday he decided the time had come for action, but his story was only for the king.

So it was that as Jordan's 20-year-old King Hussein drove into Amman, a small boy ran up beside the sleek car and waved for him to stop. The king stopped.

Five minutes later, Muhisn was sitting beside him, driving to the palace of the queen mother, where he was fed and clothed.

And today the orphan prepared to start an expensive education—with the king footing the bill.

Talbott Says it Was Proper To Seek Advice of Brownell

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott contended today it was perfectly proper for him to seek an opinion from Atty. Gen. Brownell on the legality of a proposed contract between his private firm and Radio Corporation of America.

Talbott made a return appearance before the Senate Investigations subcommittee which is studying the propriety of his maintaining a partnership in a firm whose clients included defense contractors.

Previous testimony has developed that the firm—Paul B. Mulligan and company of New York—wanted RCA to go into a contract for its services as a management engineering company. RCA wanted assurance from Atty. Gen. Brownell that this would be legal, in view of Talbott's position as Secretary of the Air Force.

Talbott said that when he sent John A. Johnson, the Air Force's general counsel, to talk to Brownell about the case last Jan. 6, Johnson was not acting as his personal attorney. "He was representing the secretary of the Air Force on a matter of propriety."

BROWNELL TOLD newsmen today he turned down Johnson's request for a ruling because it was "against our policy to give an opinion to an outside firm like RCA."

Meanwhile, Democrats have mused away at the situation. Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) told the Senate that Talbott had misused his office in Talbott's office last fall. Democratic chairman Paul October.

M. Butler said in a statement that "If Mr. Eisenhower is going to keep his campaign promises, he will have to act promptly in the case of Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott."

Butler quoted two 1952 statements by Eisenhower. One was that "if I should ever find a rotten apple in any barrel given to my care, it won't take me three and a half years to get rid of it." The other was that Eisenhower's administration "will not tolerate any deviation from an uncompromising code of honesty and ethics in government service."

At the White House, Presidential Secretary James C. Hagerty said he knew of no plans for Eisenhower to make a statement on the case tomorrow.

TALBOTT'S APPEARANCE today was brief. He came to the committee room with a prepared statement which he asked that he be permitted to hold up until all the testimony is in. Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) agreed and instructed Talbott to return tomorrow morning.

The committee took some testimony late today, in Talbott's presence, from George B. Gelly, manager of the Washington office of the Douglas Aircraft company.

Gelly testified he accompanied Donald Douglas Sr., chairman of the board of the big airplane firm, and Donald Douglas Jr., to a conference in Talbott's office last fall. Democratic chairman Paul October.

SIMPLE RITES CONDUCTED FOR CORDELL HULL

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Colleagues of Cordell Hull in the stirring years when he conducted U. S. foreign relations joined diplomats of 1955 today in the final tribute to the former secretary of state.

Their presence was the principal eulogy at the funeral services for Hull, who died Saturday at 83. At his own request, the last rites of the Episcopal church were conducted with great simplicity in the National cathedral. There was no sermon, no choir.

But the funeral occasioned a joint appearance by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and his predecessor, Dean Acheson. They walked out of the church together after the service.

Along with the heads of diplomatic missions in Washington, who half-staffed the flags on their embassies and attended in force, the congregation included men who stirred memories of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration, of the anxious 1930s, when international relations were breaking down, and of World War II itself.

The incidents occurred as Peronist legislators ended a week-long squabble and accepted President Peron's directive to change officers of the national house of deputies. The move was a defeat for the party's labor wing.

Police said the vandalism occurred in three towns near the capital and a newspaper reported an attack in other town. In addition, police said, a bomb

Scientists and the modern trend have made it clear that ghosts are merely in one's imagination and are prompted to life through constant thought and environment. The legends of the Old West are filled with tales about Indians and gun fighters, who have forsaken their dreary graves, to haunt the small towns and prairies.

Today most of the ghosts have been forgotten, but fragments of early cowboy days are still found. Mr. and Mrs. William McIlvee, Boyertown RD. 2, are enjoying their trip to Pioneertown, a ghost village in California.

With just a look about the quiet streets, a visitor can imagine the days of the Gold Rush, when the town saloon was the center of the social life and nightly gun and fist fights were common.

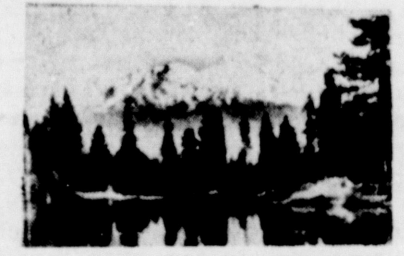

Western ghost town

The McIlvee postcard shows the main street in Pioneertown, which consists of five buildings and a long line of hitching posts. Located miles away from civilization, the silence in the town is not interrupted by the constant traffic of cars.

ANOTHER GROUP of vacationers is traveling in the West. It includes Mrs. Alice Garvine, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Trego and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wilson, Glen Moore RD.

Their card was sent from Fort Klamath, Oregon. They said, "We are having a wonderful trip touring the West. We saw Mt. Shasta, California, this afternoon."

Mt. Shasta, California

Pictured in the card is the mountain in the distance. Its tall peaks are covered with snow. In the foreground is a glassy lake, surrounded by tall trees and wild shrubs.

Another local family is enjoying sight-seeing near mountains and lakes located in Pennsylvania.

The Pocono mountains and Lake Wallenpaupack is the vacation spot for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Galloway, 536 1/2 King street. They write, "Hello there! We are having a wonderful time. It is so nice and cool here in the mountains."

Pocono Mountain fun

MRS. CHARLES LESSIG is spending her vacation at Bangor, Maine this Summer. She said, "Just landed at Dow airport, where the President was expected to land today. It is nice and cool here in Maine and I am enjoying my vacation."

Salmon in Maine

Her postcard shows the salmon pool and falls at Bangor. The rough waters are blocked by a long dam, so the fishermen are able to catch large quantities of the salmon.

What about you Mr. and Mrs. Pottstown? Are you planning on taking a vacation trip to some resort? If you are why not keep in touch with your friends at home.

There are many people, who will not be able to take time off from their home chores and work this year. They will enjoy getting vacation experiences and hearing about the sights you will see on your trip.

Send your black and white postcards to the vacation editor, Pottstown Mercury. Write your greetings and any other incidents, which might occur on your trip, on the back of the card. Be sure to include your full name and home address.

It takes very little time out from your travels to tell friends about your vacation fun. Don't forget, everyone here at home will be looking forward to hearing from you through The Mercury.

posed to install the big valve under pressure so that the line wouldn't have to be cut off.

BUT THE machinery broke down—the gears that cut the pipe wouldn't mesh—and the water had to be cut off.

Meanwhile, a job that was supposed to take 24 hours, has now bottlenecked traffic at the busy intersection for three days.

One valve was installed at West King street near Pottsgrove manor without any trouble. Crews worked all night in an effort to get water restored by 8 a. m. today.

Hydrants were opened and left running at a number of intersections to help cut down the pressure at the site of the instalment.

And more than a hundred spectators ringed the King and Charlotte streets site as workmen—under bright lights—presented an interesting outdoor show for residents who would watch anything if it meant staying out of hot, stuffy houses.

Hillcrest Playground Group Plans Party

Robert Herrlinger presided at a meeting of the Hillcrest Playground association last night with ten members present.

Plans were discussed for a party to be given to the children prior to the end of the playground sessions.

A cake sale is planned for August 26 in order to defray the expense of grading and completing the softball field.

The next meeting of the group will be held Tuesday, August 9 at 7:30 p. m.

Hill School Boys Find Old Canoe In Pond at New Hampshire Camp

Four boys from The Hill school found a sunken historical treasure when they dived into the pond at the school's Summer camp in New Hampshire the other day.

A dugout canoe, believed to have been fashioned by the Indians before the coming of the white man, was pulled from 20 feet of water by the surprised boys.

The finders were James Berry, Oil City; Norman Willock, Long Island, N. Y.; Clark Mercer, Syracuse, N. Y.; and Dick Cointreau, New York city.

The vacationing pupils dragged remains of the primitive craft from Rust pond, at the Summer camp near South Wolfboro, N. H.

DRAGGING THE rugged old canoe to shore was no easy task, as it was sunk in water 90 feet off shore opposite the camp.

Henry J. Colbath, faculty member at The Hill and director of the camp, said the canoe is believed to date back to the 1600s.

The craft is made out of a hollowed-out log of white pine. It is 14 feet long and two feet wide, with an 18-inch freeboard.

The bow section is missing, but much of the stern counter (six inches thick) remains. So do portions of the sides.

POCKETS OF charred wood are clearly visible where the Indians hollowed out the log.

It appeared that the canoe had been sunk in water and weighted down with stones, the finders reported.

An archaeologist who has a home in Wolfboro, Prof. Robert F. W. Meader of Susquehanna university, agreed with campers on the type of craft they had found.

He estimated that the canoe could date anywhere from 1000 A.D. to 1700, but most probably is from the Seventeenth century.

CHESTER B. Price, member of the New Hampshire Archaeological society, told Colbath that the Abenaki Indians had a camp at or near the site of The Hill school camp.

Three days after the canoe find, another pupil at the camp, Ben Rose, found a second boat 30 feet from shore in 12 feet of water.

When taken out it proved to be 10 feet nine inches long and 21 inches wide. The pine bottom was intact but the ends and one side were missing.

Professor Meader identified the craft as a small colonial punt belonging to the Rust farm, settled on that shore in 1770.

Both the New Hampshire Archaeological society and New Hampshire Historical society have been notified, and the relics have been placed under study.

"The religious organizations advocated FEPC most strenuously," he continued. "It's very easy for organizations to advocate that others practice FEPC, but their attitude may be different when it comes to them."

The FEPC, previously passed by the House, was passed by the Senate with amendments by a vote of 44 to 5.

authority so that parking areas can be financed for the center of town.

Levitz already had $700 in the kitty by the time he was named chairman. The New York store had pledged $500; the Betty Lee shop, $100; and the H. F. Smith stationery store, $100.

For five years the chairman of highly successful United Jewish Appeal drives in the borough. Levitz said, "It shouldn't be difficult because every businessman in the downtown area is aware of the acuteness of the problem. They're willing to go along with any concrete step that will alleviate the situation."

"You know, there's been a lot of talk for years about doing something but this is the first time that any specific action has been taken."

LEVITZ SAID he felt the merchants were showing good faith by raising the money and getting the survey completed. He said his committee would contact a firm that specializes in this type of survey, "a firm whose report will command the confidence of banks and insurance companies when loans are sought later."

"We businessmen are on the threshold of losing hundreds of customers. We've already lost a lot to other communities—Allentown, Reading and Norristown—communities that have done or are doing something about their problems."

"There are advantages for the borough itself—and to the taxpayer—in this action we're taking," Levitz said.

"AS WE lose customers in the business district, the value of the real estate drops. And with it, drops the tax revenue to the borough."

"Also, loss of customers means loss of income from business district parking meters—a big source of revenue for the borough."

By putting on a successful drive for better parking, the merchants would not only maintain the borough's income but would increase it.

How will the $5000 be raised? "We'll go to every business man in the downtown area. They'll all be asked to contribute—according to the size of their business."

6000 is the number for newstips.

It's the 4-Door Riviera—
the stunning new hit of America's Hardtops

WHEN Buick introduced America's first hardtop—the Riviera—folks went for it in a big way, and fast.

They liked the Convertible look of this 2-door beauty—long, low and rakish. They liked the added security of the steel roof overhead. And they certainly liked the absence of center posts in the side window areas—which gave a completely unbroken view left and right.

People liked it all so well that, over the past six years, they made the Riviera the biggest-selling hardtop in the world, bar none. And it still is.

Now Buick has come up with another great advance in hardtops—the 4-Door Riviera—and it's a sensational hit.

It has everything the original 2-Door Riviera has—plus separate doors for rear-seat passengers, and a whale of a lot more room for them.

Rock-solid half-pillars on either side are what latch the front doors and hinge the rear ones. So there's no center post above the door line—and a completely open sweep of view to both sides.

And the roominess provided by this gorgeous new hardtop is really something—over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom in the rear.

Why don't you come see this brand-new kind of automobile that's heading up the parade of the hottest-selling line of Buicks in history?

That way you can also try what else is to be had here—Buick comfort, Buick power, Buick ride and handling and roadability—plus the electrifying action of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Do it this week—tomorrow would be fine—and you'll see what record volume really means in the way of record-high trade-in deals.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1955

Oh had some power the giftie give us to see ourself as others see us!
Robert Burns.

Action! No Talk!
POTTSTOWN'S merchants have stopped talking "about the death of downtown," and have started to plan its rebirth.
Definitely concerned about a shopping exodus to the outskirts shopping centers—which is not only a local, but a national trend—Pottstown's merchants finally were crystallized to action at a rousing mercantile bureau meeting Monday.

They discarded a lethargic, "let George do it" attitude to assume an aggressive, two-fisted attack on their mutual problems.

They planned to battle traffic confusion, inconvenience, and lack of parking to make Pottstown's downtown shopping center the most attractive in the Schuylkill valley!

Fired into an enthusiastic, cohesive group, the merchants voted to raise at least $5000 to determine the needs for parking conveniences close to the downtown shopping center. Their enthusiasm reached a stirring peak when $700 of this goal was pledged by three merchants almost before the vote on the campaign motion was completed.

They wasted no breath on talk! Chairman Harold Wolf, of the merchants board, looked over his field of capable merchandisers and picked Leon Levitz, furniture store wizard, to head the fund raising campaign. Mr. Levitz started work as early as yesterday afternoon to plot his campaign.

Why this sudden enthusiasm?
The merchants were aroused to the conclusion that they had to help themselves! They left the parking problem for decades of years to other bodies. These groups did nothing but talk.

Today, when the traffic problem is becoming more acute, they discarded talk for action. They're going to show Pottstown they can do something about parking ills!

If a parking survey they'll pay for out of the $5000 demonstrates that municipal parking lots are needed, they'll ask council to form a parking authority. Then they'll lean on the parking authority for aid.

This parking accommodation, sure to arise from their activity, WON'T COST THE POTTSTOWN TAXPAYER A PENNY! The authority will be self-supporting. In fact, it may earn revenue! It's the answer to the harassed merchant's dream!

Action of the merchants is commendable! Success certainly will crown such an enthusiastic campaign. Now all that's needed is support. It's the one time merchants can prove they are interested in their community!

Time to Cut Weeds

It's time for the scythe and the sickle.
Several correspondents to The Mercury have called attention to dangerous conditions at numerous crossroads, due to the summer's growth of vegetation, which obscures the vision of motorists entering the intersections.

The Mercury has received complaints from drivers whose lives have been imperiled at obscured road and street crossings.

In many cases, property owners do not fully realize the hazard motorists are subjected to and are quick to take remedial action when the matter is brought to their attention. One bad crossroad we know already has been trimmed.

Danger is particularly serious at points where "slow" and "stop" signs are obscured. Motorists on the "stop" street, he asserted, enter intersections without warning of danger or knowledge of law violation. At the same time, drivers on highways which the obscured signs are supposed to protect are placed in peril because they are expecting cross traffic to give them right of way and are unprepared for the emergency when vehicles from the cross-road loom before them.

Motorists should take cognizance of these conditions and approach intersections at greatly reduced speed.

Brighter and Safer

HAVE you noticed how many Pottstown automobile accidents are caused by rear-end collisions?

There's a lot of them. Rear-end accidents rate second in the list.

Possibly if we had reflectorized license plates the incidence of this type accident might be cut. Eight states have adopted plates which reflect light.

Of course, it might help if Pennsylvania were to go back to the two-tag system, and to make the front tag reflecting, also. The reflecting plates adopted by other states are said to be 100 times brighter than ordinary plates, readable from 150 feet and visible from 1500 feet.

Brighter reflecting license plates may warn motorists away from accidents.

Injustice Charged by 'Across-the-Tracks' Mother

To the Editor: My boy comes from what they call "the other side of the tracks" and when he got into trouble the police sent him down to Norristown to the county probation officer.

I am wondering now what will be done with the North End boys who got into trouble, too. Days have passed and nothing has been done to them.

This appears to be a case of where the Pottstown "blue bloods" get the kid-glove treatment while the boys from poorer families get none of this "special" consideration.

I am not asking for punishment for these boys any greater than that given my son, but I strongly resent the favoritism shown by the burgess and the police in this matter.

I love my son, too, and I wouldn't be a good mother if I didn't call attention to the injustice that is being done to him and others who have no one in high places to plead their cause.

WASHINGTON Ike's Enemies See Rift in Foreign Policy

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, July 27 — The more extreme enemies of the Eisenhower Administration, political and journalistic, have set out to promote the impression that serious disagreements separate President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles on the conduct of foreign policy, especially with respect to future relationships with Russia.

It is an aftermath of the Geneva Conference, although the campaign was hatched several months ago.

Emphasizing and exaggerating several minor differences between the two men on foreign problems, the purpose seems to be to accuse Ike of being too agreeable to concessions to Moscow, while Dulles is portrayed as favoring a stiffer and sterner policy.

Regardless of future developments, the President's conciliatory attitude and remarks at Geneva have been interpreted as proof of a top-level clash.

WHICH POLICY? Adopting the same tactics, numerous British and French commentators, who usually reflect the viewpoint of their Foreign Offices, ask whether the soft "Eisenhower" or the harsh "Dulles" policy will prevail in any forthcoming showdown with the Russian and Chinese Communists.

The underlying scheme is, to cast full responsibility on the President, not the Secretary of State, if agreements germinated at Geneva can be made to appear as another Yalta sellout.

For months, and in defiance of the strategy of the Democratic leadership on Capitol Hill, opposition extremists have insisted upon a direct frontal attack on the man in the White House in preparation for the 1956 election.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: The critical politicians and columnists cite what they regard as circumstantial evidence for their theory of a White House-State Department division.

They note that Dulles maintained silence while Ike was feigning and goodwill with top Red delegates at Geneva. Although protocol demanded that the President act as official host and spokesman, Dulles' subordinate and silent role and behavior are represented as proof that he and Ike disagree on basic policy.

Eisenhower's wartime friendship with Marshall Georgi Zhukov, Russian Minister of Defense, was ballooned far beyond its intrinsic importance.

RECALL EARLIER DIFFERENCES: Earlier disagreements have been recalled. Eisenhower, according to the opposition's contention, did not support Dulles' demand for an "agonizing reappraisal" of foreign aid to Europe, after the death of the European Defense Community program.

Instead, Ike backed Prime Minister Anthony Eden's one-man effort to organize Western European nations through the Paris pacts.

Dulles fought bitterly with Eden during the Indo-China truce talks at Geneva, figuring that the outcome was a complete victory for Ho Chi Minh, the Chinese Communists puppet.

But Eisenhower approved the settlement, as he had earlier rejected Pentagon proposals that the U. S. intervene to carve out a triumph for the French forces.

REBUKED FOR REMARK:

On the eve of Geneva, Dulles told a Senate Committee that Russia was on the "verge of an economic collapse," and he was rebuked mildly by the President—not once but twice—for that indiscreet remark. The Secretary's conviction of internal Soviet weakness, rightly or wrongly, is listed as another reason for his insistence on a tougher policy toward the Reds, both at Geneva and in future negotiations.

Need Better Water Source

To the Editor: When the entire town of Pottstown is water metered and the department gets on a stable basis some thought should be given to getting water from some other source than the Schuylkill.

I believe everyone will admit that Schuylkill river water, no matter how much it is chlorinated and made to taste better, still tastes like what it is.

River water piped to homes makes it almost necessary for a family to buy spring water for drinking and using water softener equipment for the dishes and wash.

If all the money that is spent in spring water would be put into a fund for the digging of artesian wells, the cost of such wells would be paid off in 10 to 15 years, I believe.

Water is a necessity of life. It's probably the most important thing we use.

FIRE ISLAND'S most exciting moment of the weekend was provided by actor Lawrence Tierney and burly "Shipwreck" Kelly (Brenda Frazier's estranged husband) when they traded punches in one of the island's more popular pubs. Bystanders broke it up before any big damage was done.

The fight started over that classic prize, a dame. She was Shipwreck's but eye-witnesses report she gave Tierney a bit of flirtatious encouragement just before the battle was joined.

Paris provides the latest Marilyn Monroe rumors. Along the Ritz Bar-George V circuit there's a wild buzz that Marilyn will be heading there next Spring for personal appearances, part of a string of stage engagements that would start in Paris and go on to Rome and London—with Her Gorgeousness drawing a five-figure weekly fee.

Joe K., aged 22, is a sailor who sat beside me when I flew to Anderson, S. C., recently.

"How much longer do you have in the Navy?" I inquired, and he told me he had only six months left of his four years.

"What do you plan to do then?" I casually asked.

"Oh, I'm going to get a job in a textile mill and buy a car," he added.

"Are you a high school graduate?" I continued, and he said he was. "Then why don't you go on to college, at least for one year?"

"Uncle Sam will pay you about $110 per month, if you do, and it will be worth an extra $10,000 to you in the years to come."

"Well, I don't know," he replied, hesitatingly. "I have a buddy who got out last year and he's at Clemson University. He's been urging me to go to school, too, so I might do that."

"AN INVESTMENT in knowledge," said wise old Benjamin Franklin, "always pays the best dividends."

So I told Joe this fact. Then I reminded him of what would be true in a year if he went directly from the Navy into a textile mill.

He wouldn't have a penny left from his year's pay checks, but would have an automobile, partly paid for, but now a used car even if he had purchased it new, when he entered the mill.

AGAINST THAT, if he went to college he'd have a year of higher education to his credit.

"Now, Joe, which do you think will give you more leverage for prying out better jobs or bigger pay in the future—your half paid-for car, or that year in college?"

He confessed that the college would probably be worth more.

To obtain one of Dr. Crane's psychological bulletins, send a long, 3-cent stamped, self-addressed, envelope to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Mercury.

Enclose a dime to cover costs of typing and mailing. Dr. Crane will forward the bulletin.

Then I explained how business and industrial firms operate. Suppose they advertise "Help Wanted."

Maybe 100 men apply. But they might need only 10, so how do they weed out the 90 in a hurry?

"How many of you are high school graduates?" is the first query, and maybe 50 percent report they have their diplomas.

"Sorry, we don't have anything available at the moment, says the Personnel Manager to the 50 lacking high school diplomas.

Then certainly such an expense would be worthwhile.

Three Lane Traffic on Hills

To the Editor: Here's a suggestion to eliminate one of the serious sore spots for the person who depends upon his car on his job.

Widen all hills to three-lane traffic width so as to permit automobiles going up a hill to pass the slow, groaning trucks.

Sure, this would cost a good bit of money. But instead of building those grandiose highways, on which you must pay toll and the price for gasoline that is set too high, there should be more money spent to improve the roads that we have.

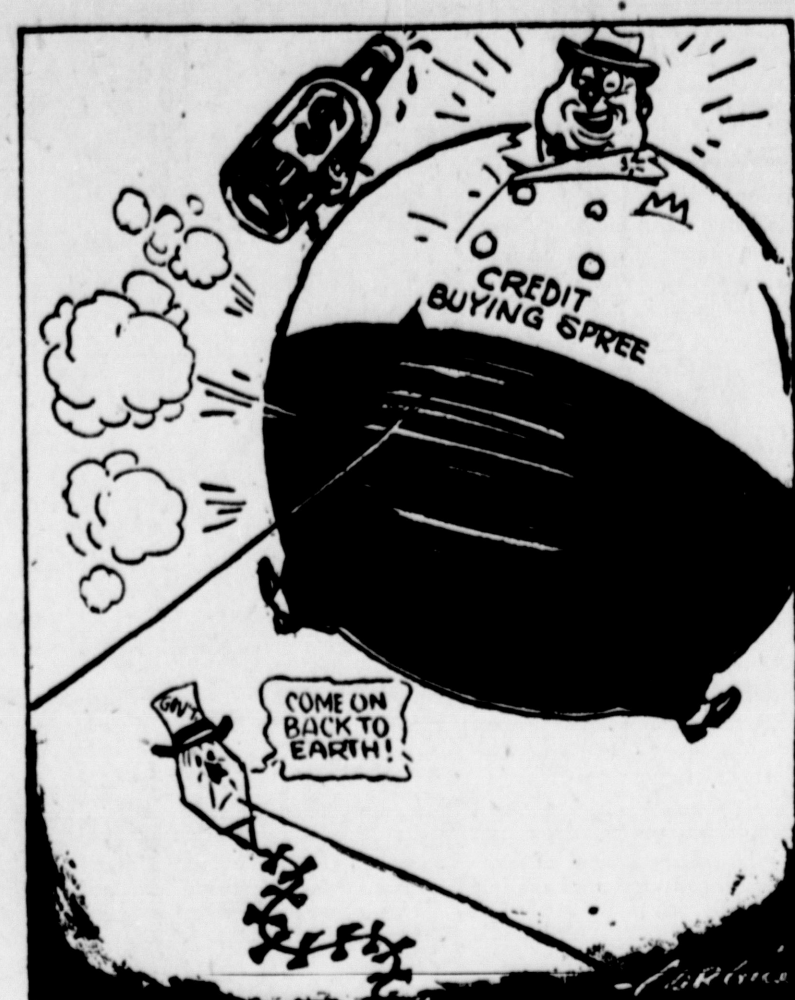

Those "luxury" roads make me wonder, anyway. Take the Route 100 by-pass, for instance. When it is opened, it will go only part way.

Let the big trucks batter up our Pottstown streets? Sure, go ahead, if that's the way they want it.

So the state takes over King street. What does that mean?

Take a ride along Route 100 (Farmington avenue) now. It's just like riding in a roller coaster—only not quite as smooth. And that is a state "highway." SALESMAN

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Of Ducks and Dogs...

'He' Was a 'She'...

★ STRANGER — For a moment yesterday Leroy Fitzgerald, a salesman for Nagle Motors, thought the heat was getting him. Then he took a second "take" at what he saw at High and Keim streets and, sure enough, it was a duck! Fitzgerald was returning to work about 1 p. m. when the large white bird waddled across High street. And this bird wasn't taking any chances, either. He was crossing on the green light. In a hurry and still a little dubious, Fitzgerald continued on to work as the duck, safely across the street, disappeared from view.

★ SHOCK — ROBERT LAWRENCE is only 12, lives with his mother, MRS. CAROLINE ELIZABETH LAWRENCE, at 419 Hale street. And as most boys, he likes dogs. About a year ago, when he was at the Second Baptist grocery on Jefferson avenue, a stray dog took a liking to Robert. Robert took a liking to the dog, too. It wasn't any special breed — just a friendly animal that wagged its tail when Robert petted it. After efforts to find the owner were unsuccessful, Robert took the dog home. He named it Rex. That's a good name for a dog. Life with Rex and Robert went along smoothly. They became close pals. Everywhere Robert went — well, almost everywhere — Rex tagged along. Then last Nov. 7 (Robert remembers the date well), Rex gave his young master a rude shock. "He" gave birth to seven puppies. Robert pondered this development for a while, then decided to change his pet's name to "Rexaline." That, he figured, is the feminine for "Rex." Then, about a month ago, Rexaline gave birth to 10 more puppies. Yesterday, as a "foster parent," Robert wanted to give away the pups. One dog was enough for him.

★ OUT OF THE HEAT — Murray Rothenberg, the factory manager of East Greenville's H. G. Knoll Products, will take his wife and two children, Lisa and Joan, of Maple Garden apartments, away from Pottstown's heat and into the cool lake country of Maine at the end of the week. They'll spend two weeks at Lake Christopher, in the north central part of the state. "I hope we get away from this weather," Rothenberg commented. ... Going in the opposite direction will be Anthony G. Bolognese, who drives truck for the High Street Potato market. He will drive to Key West, Fla., with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Polinitz, and their children, Michele Ann and Regina Elizabeth, of 334 Walnut street. In Key West, they'll visit a sister of Bolognese's, Mrs. Polinitz — Mrs. Guido DiCola, whose husband is a Navy career man, has 17 years of service and holds a chief petty officer rating. They'll stay three weeks.

★ MOVING WEST — MR. AND MRS. THOMAS W. SOMERS and daughter CAROL LOU, 7 will pull up stakes and head for booming California some time next month. YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. RUNDESEN, M.D.
HEAT exhaustion is a fairly common occurrence during our hot Summer days. Luckily, it usually is not as serious as heat stroke. The causes, however, may be the same. Generally, overexertion in great heat is to blame.

There may also be several contributing factors such as salt deficiency, excessive fatigue, alcoholism and weakness from an illness.

If you are overly tired, weak or have been drinking liquor a great deal in hot weather, you've got to be especially careful.

Heat exhaustion, or heat prostration, if you prefer, may come on at any time, even at night.

Generally, the symptoms are weakness, dizziness, vertigo, headache, dim or blurred vision, irritability. Sometimes these are followed by vomiting.

The victim may feel listless, become faint and may even lose consciousness. His blood pressure will be low. The skin will be pale, cold and moist because of contraction of the surface blood vessels and perspiration.

That's one way you can tell the difference between heat exhaustion and heat stroke. A victim of heat exhaustion will perspire freely; a victim of heat stroke will not.

If you feel any of these symptoms coming on, go to the coolest place you can find and rest until you feel better. If you're outside, get into the shade immediately. Sit down or lie down under a tree. Have someone call a doctor.

You've got to replace the fluid and salt you've lost through perspiration. Probably the easiest and quickest way is to drink a mixture of salt and water. Ten grains (two five-grain tablets) of salt should be mixed in a pint of water.

If the patient is unconscious, a doctor can administer saline intravenously.

Meredith Fastest In Soap Box Derby

Peter Meredith was winner of the second annual soap box derby of Pughtown Cub Pack 25 on Harmonville road last night.

The ten-year-old speed king flashed across the finish line just 22 seconds after leaving the starting ramp at Erb's store, 450 feet away.

Meredith's competition was slashed by vacations and sickness. Only two other racers showed up for the contest. Others were away on trips with parents or laid low by whooping cough.

David Wallace, 9 years old, was second place winner and Kenneth Moses, 10, finished third. Time of the three contestants varied by only a few seconds.

An estimated 100 spectators lined the downgrade course for the derby. Some came from as far as Boyertown to see it.

First prize was a $3.50 gift certificate; second, a Cub Scout T-shirt; third, a flashlight. Cubmaster James B. Walker was official starter and Richard J. Meredith, assistant starter.

3 Persons Treated At Local Hospital

Three persons, including two youngsters, were treated at Pottstown hospital yesterday for injuries received in accidents.

Simon Edelson, 50, of Philadelphia, a painter, received a deep jagged cut of his right wrist while cutting a pane of glass while working for the Standfor construction company at Graterford.

The cut severed an artery which was tied off at the hospital dispensary. Nine wire stitches were needed to close the wound.

Five-year-old Frances Tosto of 74 South Charlotte street was bruised on her right cheek when she ran into the fender of a parked car yesterday afternoon. She was treated, X-rayed and discharged.

The final accident victim was Robert Edleman, 5, of 888 South street, who was hit in the head by a stone while playing ball at the Franklin field annex. He was treated for a small laceration above his right ear at 7 o'clock last night. Two wire stitches were required to close the wound.

Two Teen-Agers Injured

Two teen-age youths were injured last night in an accident on the Monocacy road off Route 422.

Robert Updegrove, 15, of Birdsboro RD 2, was admitted to Pottstown hospital with a deep laceration of the scalp and brush burns of both legs.

Walter Schaeffer, 16, of Monocacy Station, was treated for abrasion of the forehead and bridge of the nose. He was discharged.

According to State police, Schaeffer was operating a car which collided with another driven by Joseph Brauner, 31, of 28 High street.

Industry Seekers Hear Firm Official On How Companies Select New Sites

Pottstown's Industrial Expansion committee—eager to locate a new industry for the borough—heard from an expert on how big companies go about choosing a new building site.

Beeber Gross, official in the Reading company's real estate division, addressed the group Monday noon at The Pines on Route 100.

Gross' main work is to help locate new industrial sites for businesses.

He said a town must be ready to supply all the facts in brochure form, when a new company inquires about possible relocation to that community.

WHEN THEY get the facts, they send out scouts to study the town's spirit: to see if the people want new industry; if they have civic pride; if clerks and business people are courteous and try to sell their town along with their merchandise.

He said one eastern Pennsylvania town (he wouldn't name it) lost a new industry when scouts found the local newspaper and the townspeople antagonistic towards new industry.

That industry went to York, instead, Gross claimed.

He said that in some cases, hospital facilities have been the cause of an industry's relocation.

ANOTHER important factor is this: does the town have a definite available plot of ground for new industry? Large companies like "industrial parks"—areas which have been planned for factories with additional space for parking, recreation facilities, etc.

Monday night, James J. Moore, member of the committee visited the Industrial committee in Boyertown and congratulated it—for the Pottstown committee—for its aggressiveness. The two groups pledged mutual assistance.

CATHALAS

What many others spend a lifetime trying to perfect, the Cathalas make just a part of their unique performance, combining the exacting art of sphere-rolling with graceful acrobatics and dexterous manipulation of all the juggler's "tools." Sphere-rolling, in which the performers move about atop large, wobbly globes, rolling them across the stage while maintaining a precarious balance on their slippery surfaces, is a highly complex art in itself. When the man maneuvers in this manner with the lovely girl performing a series of gymnastic feats on his shoulders, you won't believe your eyes.

Girls of Limerick 4-H Club Show Aptness As Sewing Projects Near Completion

Sewing, a practical art, can be interesting and fun. An example of this is exhibited by girls of the Limerick 4-H club.

The group has met for a second time in two weeks in the Limerick firehall to add another step of completion to their skirts and dresses.

Two of the advanced students even are making their own gowns.

At the Monday night meeting, first year girls added a waistband and hem to their skirts, while second year club members added sleeve facing to their dresses.

Third year members added sleeves to their dresses and fitted the waists.

The advanced girls utilized the working period to complete the bodice of their gowns.

Mrs. Ruth Miller, county representative, was on hand to offer advice and to demonstrate correct procedures used when sewing.

SUMMER RECIPE FOR LIVING—From East High street, the Sanatoga residence of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reed appears to be a comfortable, sturdy brick home. But walking around the house, a visitor almost enters another age—an age of spacious grounds, tree-shaded walks and well-planned floral displays. This, the Reeds' summer recipe for living, is found in a space 135 feet wide and 160 feet deep. Mr. Reed, who retired in 1952 after working for the railroad for 43 years, and his son, Carl, have done all the landscaping of their year-round retreat. In one corner there is a 20 by 30 foot pavilion, with comfortable chaise lounges, chairs, a round table brightly covered with a red cloth, and comfortably padded corner seats. This trellised enclosure began as the family garage, then became a glass-enclosed hothouse, and now it's the family outdoor dining area. Mrs. Reed declares "next year I don't know what it will be because my men are constantly changing the garden plan." The present garden plan includes a wishing well in one corner, brick walls around the grassy lawn, a wall of roses, and the decorative center of the beautiful garden, a small fishpond. Two sculptured cranes stand guard in the center over the more than 600 fish living in the pond. In the picture, Mrs. Reed stands discussing with her two men (son Carl, kneeling center, Mr. Reed relaxed at right) preliminary plans for even further beautifying this garden spot of Sanatoga.

Mixed flowers and the traditional cake decorated the refreshment table for the memorable occasion.

Guests present were: Nellie Mertz, Cora Mertz, Mary Mertz, Mrs. Mock, Mrs. Katie Fillman, Mrs. Katie Harp, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Miller, Sandra Miller and William Rowland all of Pottstown.

Also, Bessie Keffer, Reading; Rose Reigel, Kenilworth; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Langer, Boyertown; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Langer, Milford Square; Mrs. Tillie Kehm, Perkasie.

SOAK GAS RANGE BURNERS

Cleaning your gas range is a cinch if you use plenty of hot water. The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association recommends taking apart the top burners and placing them and the grates in a dishpan of very hot water, in which a cup of washing soda has been dissolved. Let everything soak until the water is cool enough to work with, by which time you'll find your job is half done.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-331

DESIGN C-331. Several features of outstanding interest are noteworthy in this plan, such as the delightful kitchen with a snack bar and dinette, the minimum hall space, and the variety of closets. In addition to this, there are three bedrooms, a comfortable living room and a full basement.

Kitchen cabinets are arranged to form a compact, step-saving workroom, with the advantage of having a three-way view of the side and rear yards, and overlooking the front entrance. The dinette is separated from the living room by means of folding doors. High windows in the ends of the bedrooms add to the already liberal wall space.

The exterior is attractively finished with a combination of wide siding and stone. The house includes a stone fireplace, picture window, shutters and asphalt shingles. Ground area is 1185 square feet, with a cubage of 22,515 cubic feet.

For further information about DESIGN C-331, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. In Canada, the Small House Planning Bureau of Canada, St. John, New Brunswick.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By early this morning it was in the 70s.

Morning temperatures yesterday were mostly in the middle 70s, although the humidity was very noticeable.

Temperatures in this area will average two to five degrees above normal through Sunday, the weather bureau predicts. Scattered showers may appear tomorrow or Friday.

A MASS of cool air may creep into this area from Canada over the weekend, the weatherman observed cautiously.

It's something to look forward to, although it was explained that the cooler air depends on the "blocking effect of the Bermuda high pressure system extending along the southern coast from Florida to Georgia." If it remains there the cool air will be able to reach here.

If high temperatures aren't enough to make you feel wilted, the humidity probably is. Humidity in this area yesterday, for instance, was 52 percent when the mercury hit 90 degrees.

Today will be partly cloudy, hot and humid, with a high of 92 to 98 degrees. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and hot with scattered thundershowers.

Adopted Raccoons Find Happy Home, Romp With Children at Apartments

Strange animals have been sighted by motorists passing the Oakleigh apartments near Coventryville, Pottstown RD 2, but the apartment dwellers aren't worried.

"Oh, them—they're just our pet raccoons," Homer S. Sweisford explained to an anxious passerby who noticed the animals sneaking up on the small Sweisford children.

Another motorist who happened to have a ladder along saw the grayish-brown animals frolicking on the roof of one of the cottages at the former Summer camp on Coventryville road.

"He offered to climb up and catch them," Sweisford chuckled. "He didn't know they were tame."

THE PLAYFUL, bright-eyed raccoons have been growing as fast as the apartment colony children since Sweisford found them the past May 7. They were in a nest in a tree he had cut down.

"Now I have two of them and Mrs. Linwood Romig has two others," Sweisford explained. "She

Summer Facelifting Program Prepares Schools for Opening Day in September

Don't look now, son, but workmen are laboring every day to get the school houses in shape for the ringing of the bell in September.

Linford Moyer, secretary of the Pottstown School district, said yesterday that four contractors and eight other men are busy painting, sanding, repairing and renovating.

By the time school reopens here's what will have been done:

The Senior High school will have a new outside paint job; new closets for band instruments; new window shades.

The Junior High school second floor classrooms and the woodwork on the outside of the building will be freshly painted.

HERE'S THE program for elementary schools:

Franklin: a general housecleaning, including the sanding and painting of some floors, window washings, weather-stripping.

Jefferson: wooden floors resanded, new closets in classrooms, outside painting.

Lincoln: a general cleaning. A big building project which will see eight new classrooms added to the building should be started in two months.

Rupert: general housecleaning. St. Clair: enlarging the hard surface playground next to the school.

WASHINGTON: the new school is now under construction. It doesn't look as though the building will be finished for the Sept. 1 deadline. Most likely the 250-odd pupils will have to be transported to Franklin, Rupert and the West End schools until the new school is up.

West End: the school needs only a general cleaning.

rimba, the German band number, the vocal solos of Floria Felix, and the combined effects of band and glee club.

The exotic Hawaiian war chant was a favorite of the audience and dancers scored a hit with an Irish jig and a comic French can-can.

Director Lamb revealed that he expects eventually to pattern every program of the band on the idea of a central theme and continuous music with narration and sound effects.

YMCA DRIVE —

Mauger 3rd, William Feroe, G. Harold Glenney, Harry Lord, and Jacob Raden.

SISTO called another meeting of the membership committee for Tuesday, 12 o'clock noon, at the Brookside Country club. At this meeting a membership goal will be set. The Pottstown YMCA now has 1049 members, including the complimentary memberships which are presented to all former 'Y' members in the armed services.

The membership drive, which begins Sept. 19, will be made on a personal solicitation basis. There will be six groups combing the area for new members and altogether, there will be nearly 100 men and boys working on the drive.

Senate Okays Bill To Continue Funds In Sewerage Plan

A State Senate committee yesterday approved a bill earmarking $2,600,000 to continue payments to towns for sewerage treatment plants built under the Commonwealth's clean streams program.

And Pottstown should be one of the first to get its check—about $21,000.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden, anticipating the bill, filed his form for the payment early in January.

The refund program was started two years ago with an appropriation of two million dollars to go to municipalities building the installations at any time since 1937. Individual allocations are advanced up to a maximum of 2 percent per municipality. Should the legislature continue the program it would be possible for the Commonwealth to pay the entire cost of the installations over a 50-year period.

PINE SWAMP — Mary E. Stauffer, R.D. 1, Elverson Pa., Cor. Del. Edwin M. Kurtz, Phone Pottstown 3559-W.

Mr. Joseph Bothof of Philadelphia has returned home after spending two weeks in Hopewell Village where he visited relatives. Mrs. Naomi Knauer, Pottstown Landing and Mrs. Raymond Stauffer, and daughter, Jean Ann, Pottstown, spent several days in the home of Mrs. Minnie Bitler.

Sunday was family day in Mt. Shiloh church. Forty-six persons of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Kramer's families were present and the family had charge of the morning service. As it was rather rainy, they had their dinner at Pine Swamp, in the sheds, so as to have shelter during the afternoon rain.

At the Sunday night worship service the congregation heard special selections by the Kramer family. The Rev. Robert Kramer and sister sang a duet, with three other sisters singing a trio, and another sister, who sang a solo.

Man Receives Chest, Back Injuries In 2-Car Crash at Local Intersection

A 33-year-old Pottstown man received chest and back injuries and bruises of his right upper leg late yesterday afternoon when a car he was driving was struck by another vehicle at the intersection of Grace and Evans street.

John W. Moser, of 960 Hale street, was reported in "fair" condition last night at Pottstown hospital. The full extent of his injuries won't be known until today after X-ray reports are made.

He was struck by a sedan operated north on Evans by Mildred F. Geist, Pottstown Route 18. She told police she didn't see Moser's sedan coming along east on Grace street until she was more than half way through the intersection and hit his right rear fender.

The impact of the crash spun Moser's car completely around in the road so that it faced west.

Moser was in such a state of shock after the accident that he couldn't make a statement to

SOME TIPS ON SAVING WATER

Reset the float in your tank toilet to turn the water off at a lower level. Don't flush the toilet to dispose of cigarette ashes, soiled tissues, etc. Stopper your sink or use a dishpan when washing dishes; a running water wash uses about 30 gallons per meal. Don't leave the water running when you brush your teeth; turn it on only when you're actually using it. Take showers instead of baths—the usual bath requires 36 gals., the usual shower 25 gal.; 20 gal. is enough for a bath, 10 gal. for a shower if you turn it off while you lather. Turn the water off while you're shaving—a running tap shave uses about 20 gal., and besides it will steam up your mirror. Use the basin instead of the shower for your shampoo.

State Official Approves Site Of New Spring-Ford High School

A representative of the State Department of Public Instruction indicated yesterday he would recommend for state approval the acquisition of 40 additional acres adjacent to the former Royersford High school as the site for a new Spring-Ford Senior High school.

This was revealed at a press conference yesterday afternoon following a visit here by J. K. Bowman, adviser of the division of consolidation and transportation of the State Department of Public Instruction. Bowman was accompanied by LeRoy Brendlinger, administrative assistant to Gerald Hottenstein, Montgomery county superintendent of schools.

The state and county officials came to Royersford at the invitation of Dr. Oliver C. Kuntzleman, supervising principal of the joint school district, who was authorized at a meeting of the joint school board July 14, to seek state approval of a plan to purchase 21 acres from Everett Sheeder, owner of the lands adjoining the present high school property, located at Washington street and Lewis road.

Bowman and Brendlinger were accompanied on a visit to the proposed site by Dr. Kuntzleman and the following members of the joint school board: Paul Krasley, president; Donald Maier, A. J. Balch, Lloyd Brownback, Harry Leopold and Arnold Smith.

IMMEDIATELY after viewing the proposed site, Bowman, Brendlinger and Dr. Kuntzleman met newspaper representatives in the office of the supervising principal.

In a brief interview, Bowman pointed out the advantages of acquiring sufficient ground. He added that he does not know of a single school board that has bought too much ground, pointing to one district which he said had acquired 235 acres and that was not too much. He went on to say that school boards are realizing the necessity of acquiring more ground and if a board should buy too much, they can dispose of it by selling it.

In buying ground, he said, the school board must consider the need for space for football, baseball, hockey, tennis or other sports and parking space.

Another advantage, he said, is the fact that this site is located partly in each of three school districts of the four-way jointure. Part of it is in Royersford borough, part in Upper Providence township and part in Limerick township.

HE SAID it was ideally situated as the educational center for the joint school district. The joint district includes Spring City as well as Royersford and the two adjoining townships.

Bowman ended his interview by stating he would recommend the larger area (at least 40 acres).

This would extend from the present high school building across Green street to the property of Irvin H. Johnson. Everett Sheeder had told the joint school board he would sell 21 acres. Four more acres are part of an estate.

LeRoy Brendlinger spoke briefly and remarked he also strongly recommends not less than 40 acres. He added that when the school board comes to a decision as to what it wants, it is then presented to the county board for its approval, after which the county turns it over to the State Council of Education.

Dr. Kuntzleman also told the press representatives a list of 13 architects has filed application to draw up plans for the proposed new structure. One of these will be selected. Meanwhile the site committee, composed of Directors Donald Maier, Carl Shoneman, W. Garrett Edwards and Harry Leopold, is negotiating with the owner of the land.

Budget Committee Plans Interviews

The budget committee of Royersford Community chest will begin the first of eight interviews with delegated representatives from participating organizations tomorrow night, starting at 6:45 o'clock. The committee explained that to present a request, certain steps must be taken or certain requirements fulfilled.

People presenting the requests must be duly appointed representatives of a given organization. The organization represented must have a definite aim in the community. The organization desiring such representation must be investigated and voted on by the board of directors of the chest.

If the organization's cause is acceptable to the chest, it will be asked to send representatives to the necessary meetings. Most organizations which any chest feels that it should recognize have a sense of permanency involved in their activities.

Rev. Schlessman Speaks At Jaycee Dinner

The Rev. Oscar Schlessman was guest speaker at the recent July dinner-meeting of Royersford Jaycees, held in the Darlene tea room. The Rev. Schlessman spoke on "What We Can Do For Our Young People."

Numerous future activities were discussed. Robert Tyson, president, expressed a desire that the Jaycees co-operate with a movement for some sort of youth center for Royersford's young people.

Five guests from the Reading Jaycees attended, including Carl Heim Robert Guldin, Stan Puwal-ski, Mark Ketner and John Smith. The local group was presented with a gavel, to be passed on to another Jaycee chapter as an activity to promote fellowship between chapters.

Gene Orandosh batted a mighty home run in the seventh inning last night to make the GI Raiders the first team to win a playoff berth in the City Softball League by virtue of a 7-6 win over Doehlers.

It was a shocking ending for the Die Casters who were gunning for their ninth win which would have thrown first place into a four-way tie.

Instead, Orandosh's long sock to left gave the Raiders a 10-7 record with only one game left to play. Since they can lose no more than four games, the Raiders are assured of at least a tie for the regular season crown.

The Raiders were on the defensive practically all through the game because of fielding lapses that Doehlers took advantage of.

After dropping behind, 4-0, the victors tallied four times in the fourth to knot the count. Tom Wentzel drove in the final two runs of this rally with a single, but he was tossed out at second on a pick-off and then tossed out of the game following a dispute.

THE DIE CASTERS continued their steady hitting in the fifth to pick up two more runs but the GI battlers added one to their total in the bottom of the frame.

In the last of the seventh, John Levensong pinchhit for Dutch Levensong and was hit by pitcher Lou Mack. That set the stage for Orandosh who was a replacement for third baseman Ed Essick in the fifth.

The lucky leftfielder drilled the ball to the far reaches of left-center field. It took one bounce before hitting Dick Ricketts' Recreation "omission truck as Dick scampered off the way to allow center-fielder Cy Troyan to retrieve the ball.

The relay home was fast but Orandosh was faster.

The head of the Doehler batting order belted GI pitchers Arthur and George Levensong for seven hits. Leadoff man Troyan collected three and Bob Endy and Ray Bauer each had two and Bauer was credited with three RBIs.

There is no league game tonight but tomorrow PAR will try to stay in the playoff picture when it meets PAA.

Howard's 4-Ply Blast Features Bethel Win

Tote Howard's grand slam homer featured a six-run third-inning burst for Baptist-Bethel last night in a 6-4 victory over Coventry.

Bob Oliver started the big third inning for B-B with a walk. Loser Dick Goss continued to be wild as he passed Brown and then hit Toogie Oliver. After Al Laws struck out, Bill Brown drew the third walk of the frame to force Bob Oliver in with the first run.

Howard then unloaded his homer to right and the winners were out in front to stay. Jake Dozier added a finishing touch by slamming a triple to right and he scored on a wild relay by second baseman Larry Wray.

Coventry did all its scoring in the second and third innings.

IN THE SECOND, Wray was safe on an error and Frank Sitko singled. Dick John advanced the runners with a sacrifice.

Church pastor, D. Howard-Keiper, thumped a single that drove in both runners.

With two out in the third, Franny Wampler walked and scored on Chuck Wiley's double. Wray was safe on an error. After being trapped off first, Wray delayed being tagged long enough to allow Wiley to score the fourth run.

'MUST' GAME FOR AMOLES AGAINST COLS

It's victory or out for the Potts town Legion tonight when they host the strong Collegeville Legion at Memorial field No. 1.

Each team has lost only three games but Pottstown still plays a pair of games at Narberth which have a definite bearing on the Lower Montco league championship.

A win for the Amoles means they must beat Narberth in both games. The first is scheduled tomorrow night and the windup will be played Saturday afternoon.

Two of the county's best left handed pitchers will face each other tonight. Pottstown's Al Dori, and Collegeville's Jon Ford will tie up for the second time this season.

Dori handed the Cols their first loss, 4-1, the last time they played here as Ford was the victim of his teammates' and his own misuses. Previously he had won a 2-1 decision, besting Charlie Kulp as both hurled two-hitters.

COACH BUCK RHOADS is hopeful that his ace shortstop, Leon Harold will be back in the lineup tonight. The peppery infielder sat out Pottstown's 11-1 win over North Wales, suffering from a shoulder injury.

If he is unable to play, Rhoads will probably use Mike Hader at short again, with Bob Weiser taking over at third base.

York Street Hotel Downs Stowe, 10-1

York Street Hotel spanked the Stowe Lions last night in an exhibition game at Memorial field No. 2, 10-1.

The Yorkers combined four hits and a walk in a first-inning deluge of six runs. They widened the gap by scoring once in each of the following innings.

Harry Seavers and Lee Latschaw split six of the team's 10 hits off losing pitcher Long.

Latschaw had a double and Mike Keshaw a triple for the victorious York Streeters in a warmup game to the one to be played with Stowe on Friday.
